

Jason Saldana Jr

Assignment #1

Requirements Gathering via Interviews

Interview my Uncle

- Q What are some key things to know about battleship
- A You have 5 ships in the game don't ever place them close to each other that is a good way to get wiped out quickly.
- Q How many peg or missiles can I use a turn
- A You can only place one a turn. However some play the game w/ house rules so it depends on your opponent.
- Q Can ship be moved once they are set
- A No, they can't be adjusted. That's why you have to be very strategic on how you place them. For it can burn you in the long run

Q What happens if I hit a ship?

A If I hit a ship I can continue to shoot that ship until it is destroyed. If you happen to miss in trying to destroy the ship your turn concludes.

Q What happens if I destroy a ship?

A Once you destroy a ship, you are then given another opportunity to shoot another missile to see if you can get a next hit!

* Something to Note * (From how he played it)

Once a ship is destroyed, some place peg around the area so that they know something else isn't around that area.

Q Is it possible to run out of pegs/missiles? If so what happens if you run out?

A Yes you can run out, if you do the opponent wins. That's why you have to be cautious.

Q Is there a standard size to the battle-ship board?

A Yes, for the most part it is standard. For the actual amount of spaces I was advise to do some googling

Q Anything important that I need to know?

A The game is very strategic it may look like you are randomly just placing pegs / missiles everywhere but often at times you should have a game plan

Jason Saldano Jr

Assignment #1

User Stories -

- ① As a red player, I want to set my ships on my board as I go against my opponent
- ② As a red player, I want to know much missiles/pegs I have, and the amount I have left as they are being used
  - * I would also like to know how much missiles my opponent has left.
- ③ As a red player, I would want to know how many ships I have left standing on my board as well as how many ships are standing for my opponent.
- ④ As a red player, I want to know how many what spot have had missile hit by my opponent and what I have shot at his board.